

SHRUBS

'McKenzie' Black Chokeberry NRCS Selection. White flowers, edible black fruit, glossy leaves & bright red fall color.

Buffaloberry Silver leaves with small red edible fruit, good for jelly. Tolerates high pH and drought.

Caragana Drought tolerant, fine-leaved, yellow flowers, non-edible pods.

Mongolian Cherry Glossy leaves, snowy white flowers, tart red fruit excellent for jelly

Nanking Cherry Fuzzy leaves, red fruit good for making jelly.

Sand Cherry Shiny silver-green leaves. Pretty white flowers. Purple fruit good for jelly. Spreads to make low thicket.

Common Chokecherry White flowers, fruits used for jelly and wine. Good for wildlife.

Schubert Chokecherry Red leafed selection of common chokecherry, fruit used for jelly and wine.

Centennial' Cotoneaster Bluegreen leaves with whitish underside, small red inedible fruits good food source for wildlife.

American Highbush Cranberry White flowers. Red fruit can be used for jelly. Great fall color.

American Black Currant Small shrub, leafspot resistant, Edible gooseberry like fruits.

Golden Currant Yellow fragrant flowers, produces tart edible black gooseberry like fruit.

Redosier Dogwood Fast growing, white flowers and fruit. Red stems provide good winter color. Fruit attracts birds.

Common Elderberry Large white flower clusters produce edible purple fruit which attract birds. Good for wine.

American Hazelnut Native, colony forming shrub, produces edible nuts.

False Indigo Purple flowers. Fast growing. Prefers moist soil.

Honeysuckle Fragrant white, pink or red flowers. Inedible red or orange fruit attracts birds.

Juneberry White flowers. Edible purple fruit similar to blueberries, good for pies. Fruit attracts songbirds.

Common Lilac Dense colony forming growth, white to mostly purple flowers, very fragrant. Old-time favorite!

Villosa Lilac Non-suckering. Rosy-lilac to white flowers, later blooming than common lilac.

White Lilac White flower version of common lilac.

Common Ninebark Peeling bark shows attractive reddish inner bark. White flowers.

American Plum Fast growing. White flowers, edible fruit, good for wildlife, and good for jams.

'Prairie Red' Plum NRCS selection, similar to American plum. Large red to yellow fruit, much better fruit quality and size.

Hansen Hedge Rose Hardy, thorny shrub. Fragrant pink flowers, winter food for wildlife.

Smooth Sumac Large shrub. Spreads to form a colony. Red fall color. Dark red seedheads.

Nannyberry Viburnum Shiny leaves, white flowers followed by black fruit, Excellent fall color.

Sandbar Willow Thicket-forming shrub, prefers moist soils. Bark is reddish-brown turning gray.

MEDIUM TREES

Amur Maackia Attractive legume-type flowers in July. Shiny copper-colored bark peels with age.

Apricot Early flowering, some trees produce edible fruit. Good fall color.

'Midwest' Crabapple NRCS selection. Showy white flowers, small red fruit persist on tree until eaten by birds.

Hawthorn Drought tolerant. Small non-edible red fruit. Attracts wildlife. May produce thorns.

Amur Maple Dense foliage, winter hardy, excellent fall colors

Mulberry Fairly fast growing. Fruit is white, pinkish, purple or black. Edible fruit attracts birds. Drought tolerant. May suffer winter dieback. Plant in SE or south-central SD

Russian Olive Whitish leaves. Fragrant yellow flowers. Fruit attracts birds. Very tough. Drought and high pH tolerant.

McDermand' Harbin Pear NRCS Selection. White flowers produce non-edible fruit, excellent fall color

Laurel Willow Beautiful glossy green leaves. Tolerates moist soils. Not drought tolerant.

LARGE TREES

Green Ash Yellow fall color, excellent native shade tree, long-lived, rapid growth rate.

Manchurian Ash Tolerant to Emerald Ash Borer. Slower Growing than green ash. Yellow fall color.

Quaking Aspen White to light green bark. Prefers moist well-drained soil. Spreads to form loose colony, yellow fall color.

Ohio Buckeye Attractive greenish-yellow flowers produce Inedible shiny red-brown nuts in spiny tan husks. Squirrel food.

Northern Catalpa Huge leaves, white flowers with yellow & purple markings, long cigar-shaped seed capsules. Prefers moist well drained soil

Black Cherry Fast growing, white flowers and dark fruit makes good syrup, attracts songbirds.

Hybrid Male Cottonwood Needs moist well-drained soil, shade tree, fast-growing, seedless.

Native Cottonwood Selection of native plants similar to the hybrid male, can produce cotton.

Northwest Cottonwood No cotton, better drought tolerance than other cottonwoods, slower growing.

Japanese Elm Reported highly resistant to Dutch Elm disease. Prefers moist, well drained soils.

Hackberry Good shade tree, drought hardy.

Honeylocust Fine, lacy looking leaves, may produce thorns, long brown pods.

Kentucky Coffee Tree Flattened pods containing hard round seeds, coarse branches add winter interest.

American Linden (Basswood) White fragrant flowers in June. Prefers moist well-drained soil.

Little Leaf Linden Attractive fragrant flowers. Pyramidal growth. Honey from flowers is excellent.

Silver Maple Fast growing, yellow fall color. Prefers moist soils.

Freeman Maple Native E. US. Good fall color. Similar to silver maple. Prefers moist, slightly acidic soil, fast growing.

Bur Oak Long-lived native tree, good fall color, produces acorns for wildlife use.

White Poplar Leaves & twigs have white felt-like covering. May spread to form a thicket. Drought & high pH tolerant.

Black Walnut Prefers deep, rich, moist soils, produces edible nut.

Golden Willow Rapid growth rate, yellow to orange twig. Prefers moist soils.

Peachleaf Willow Multiple trunks, grows along streams, rivers, lakes, and ponds. Riparian plant. Native.

White Willow Very large fast growing tree. Prefers moist soil

CONIFERS

Eastern Red Cedar Very drought tolerant, reddish brown to purple winter color. Inedible blue fruit. Excellent wildlife plant.

Douglas Fir Drought & alkaline tolerant. Bluish tinted needles. Inedible blue fruit. Excellent wildlife plant.

Austrian Pine Slower growing than other pines. Stiff needles.

Mugo Pine Large shrub. Grows 6' to 10' tall. Dense, low, Bushy growth. Full sun. Used in home landscapes.

Ponderosa Pine Good wildlife tree. Drought tolerant. Long needles. Cones are 3" to 6" long.

Scotch Pine Attractive peeling orange bark on older trees. Drought tolerant. Short blue-green needles.

Black Hills Spruce Cones attract songbirds in winter. Soft rounded needles, dense. SD State tree.

Colorado Spruce Large tree. Very ornamental. Needles are blue or green.

Meyer Spruce Similar to Colorado Spruce. More drought tolerant & fewer insect or disease problems.

TREE PACKS – (25 trees/pack, 5 of each species)

Fast Pack – Black Chokeberry, Amur Chokecherry, Male Cottonwood, Redosier Dogwood, Laurel Leaf Willow

Grandma's Jam Pack – Nanking Cherry, Sand Cherry, Chokecherry, Riverbank Grape, 'Prairie Red' Plum

Tough-as-Nails Pack – Buffaloberry, Caragana, Honeylocust, Bur Oak, Russian Olive

Wildlife Pack – Pin Cherry, American Hazelnut, Bur Oak, Hansen Hedge Rose, Skunkbush Sumac

NEW TREE PACKS – (10 trees/pack, 2 of each species)

Fruit & Nut Pack – Nanking Cherry, Schubert Chokecherry, American Hazelnut, Mulberry, Black Walnut

Shade Tree Pack – Japanese Elm 2-3', Hackberry 3-4', Freeman Maple 4-6', Korean Mountain Ash 3-4', Bur Oak 4-5'